WIDE SCOPE OF PROMOTION HAS TAXED RESOURCES

A consideration of finances, with a view to securing additional funds for supplying the increasing demand for folders and other literature, will be the principal item of business at the meeting of the promotion committee at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Secretary H. P. Wood intimated this morning that the present funds are hardly sufficient to meet the expense from the printing of advertising matter and, as a much larger amount will be needed during the coming months, the committee intends taking steps to securing more money for this purpose.

As a follow-up to the recent advertising campaign among bankers, doctors and men of other professions on the mainland, the committee is now sending letters to the superintendents of public instruction throughout the United States, urging them to give their co-operation in turning tourists toward Hawaii. Following is a copy of the letter:

"Will you at your convenience, kindly favor us with a list of the public school teachers under your supervision? We are desirous of placing before them the advantages and opportunities offered by Hawaii as a place for both study and recreation. There is so much in the Paradise of the Pacific of value to the student, so many points of interest so much that is beautiful that a trip to Hawaii will, we feel assured, combine more of pleasure and profit than can be obtained from any other similar outing. Then we can promise the most delightful and dependable weather imaginable. The following maximum temperature during the year 1912 (furnished by the U. S. weather bureau) will bear out this statement: June 82 degrees, July 84 degrees, August 87 degrees. Compare these figures with your agent."

KAKAAKO GANG MEMBERS DRAW LONG SENTENCES

With the intention of breaking up the famous Kakaako gang and putting an end to a series of depredations from a crowd of men and boys who have been in the habit of congregating at the several territorial wharves at the time of arrival and departure of transpacific steamers, District Magistrate Larnach this morning sentenced Henry Phillips to 60 days on the reef, while a companion named George Wallace drew a 30-day meal ticket at Hotel Asch.

At the instance of Capt. H. H. Rely, superintendent at Alakea wharf, Phillips and Wallace were placed under arrest following the sailing of the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria. Complaint had been made by several Oriental passengers that the defendants had attempted to extort money from them after forcibly taking possession of their baggage and other personal effects. It was alleged that in some cases as much as $1 was demanded, which, when refused, generally resulted in the abuse of the traveler and stranger by members of the gang.

Captain Rely, who was hailed into court upon a charge of assault and battery preferred by Wallace, was discharged. Rely may be delegated with special police powers with a view of maintaining order at the wharf.

THIRD DEGREE OF AFFINITY BLOCKS CASE

Convincing the court that a "third degree of affinity" existed between Architect C. B. Ripley and W. H. Campbell, Attorney C. W. Ashford succeeded in having the latter excused from a jury in Circuit Judge Whitney's court this morning, creating a demand for a new venire and a postponement of the Ripley & Davis $1000 suit against the Kapiolani estate until next Monday morning.

After some close examination of the prospective juror, Attorney Ashford established the fact that Campbell's cousin is married to Ripley's daughter. This, said Ashford, is the "third degree of affinity," and persons thus related to parties in litigation are not entitled to sit in the case as jurors.

There were only 13 men on the regular panel when the case was called, and Morris Rosenblatt was excused for prejudice against the defendant, John F. Colburn. That left only 12, and when Campbell was excused later it became necessary to issue a call for a special venire of 13, made returnable next Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

The firm of Ripley & Davis is suing the Kapiolani Estate for $1080, alleged due for plans of an extra floor, which was proposed for the Kapiolani building, at King and Alakea streets but which has never been built. The special venire selected to appear Monday morning consists of Arthur C. Aubrey, John B. Searle, James D. Dolo, Christian F. Jenkins, Will J. Cooper, George G. Jurensen, Harry A. Frankson, Gustave C. Holgaard, Percy M. Bakeman, Ben. Hollinger, John T. Warren, Anthony N. Gilman, Hugh H. Davis, William L. Harvey and John Nunes.

Those remaining on the jury at present are Oliver A. Walker, John A. Radway, Henry A. Giles, Archibald J. Smithies, Jason Andrade, Max H. Weinberg, George S. Wells, William Chung Hoon, C. M. V. Forster, W. W. Kirkland and H. B. Myhre.

STAMP TAX IN JAPAN IS ON THE INCREASE

(Special Cable to the Japanese Chronicle.)

TOKIO, Japan, December 5.—The Japanese government has levied a stamp tax on all textile work including dress goods, which tax is much greater than any previous one. All textile manufacturing concerns have united in taking steps toward either having the tax lowered or removed entirely.

She is survived by her husband, William Cooke, who also lives at the home.

Food Inspector A. W. Hanson's November report submitted to the territorial board of health yesterday afternoon, gave an excellent account of the dairies in and around Honolulu. It stated that 10 such plants were visited and that of 40 samples of milk tested, only two were found below standard. Of eight samples of ice cream inspected here, however, only four had the required butter content; of 27 samples examined at Hilo only one was up to the standard of 14 per cent butter-fat.

Around the festive board, at the Pacific Club, the last acts of the thirty-third convention of the Sugar Planters' Association were performed last night. R. D. Mead, J. W. Waldron and John Waterhouse were the committee in charge of the banquet and accompanying high jinks. Yesterday afternoon the association visited its experiment station at Makiki, where Messrs. Sweeney and Osborne explained the breeding of parasites for fighting pests and the other branches of the work of the station were inspected.

How the city and county's money is to be spent during the first six months of the new year will be about definitely decided this evening when the board of supervisors meets in caucus on the budget. This will be the second meeting on that measure. The first was Sunday morning. Unlike many caucuses held by former boards, the budget will not be made up behind closed doors. No radical changes are contemplated, no raises in salary will be allowed, no increases in office forces will be agreed to, say the supervisors. Strict economy will be kept in mind.

tion and the Moros of the southern islands. I wanted to see the sort of life they lived, and try to gain true impressions of their varying national traits. I think that history has proved that there can be no real self-government without the fusion of ideals, morals and to a certain extent religion. I expect, however, a despotism where warring elements can be controlled with an iron hand. This matter of Philippine independence is a very grave one, and I regret that more members of the committee were not able to make the trip, it being originally intended that several of us should go. However, I made as careful a study as possible, and will try to transfer my impressions to my colleagues when I get back to Washington.

'HOLIDAY-HOUR' PLAN FOR CITY STORES URGED

Manager Berndt Believes New Movement on Mainland Will Be Big Success Here

A steadily-growing movement in the important mercantile circles of the mainland against the practice of keeping stores and shops open at night for several weeks during the Christmas season has convinced at least one Honolulu merchant that it is time for Honolulu to join the "holiday-hour" movement.

Emil A. Berndt, manager of W. W. Dimond & Co., has already inaugurated the plan in his own store and believes that a general observance of it will greatly benefit not only the store and its employees, but the shopping public as well.

During the recent convention of the Dohrmann syndicate stores in California, the strong movement for the "holiday-hour" was endorsed and all the stores adopted the idea.

"In brief, the plan is to keep the store open only three or four nights before Christmas to double the working force during December and give the public every opportunity during the day to shop quickly, easily and economically as to time, patience and money," said Mr. Berndt this morning, discussing the situation here as well as on the mainland.

"The great department stores of New York, Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco and other cities are all adopting the idea. They have found that it is beneficial both for themselves and the public. They provide a big working force during the holiday month, organize the employees intelligently and put them in a position to give splendid service. Thus the public can really get most of its shopping done without the necessity of going to the stores at night.

"On the last three or four nights, the store closes from 6 to 7:30 o'clock and opens again at 7:30 next morning with the full double force. The force is not tired out, it is wide awake and in a position to handle the large crowd of shoppers.

"The store is saved a large expense for employees at night, saved the cost of lights, which is considerable, and saved the use of overworked and tired employees.

"The plan is working splendidly everywhere it is tried. I believe it will work splendidly in Honolulu. Of course, it can only secure the best results by unanimity of action among the merchants. I believe that this can be secured."

CENTRAL AMERICA TO NEED RAILWAYS ON CANAL'S FINISH

Laborers Are Plentiful and the Road in Honduras Is Now Under Way

[By Latest Mail] PANAMA—Railroad construction in Central America will be benefited by the Panama Canal nearing its completion. At several points along the Canal Zone there is surplus amount of labor, and many of the negroes are now leaving for Puerto Cortes, Honduras, where they will be employed on the railroad being constructed there by H. M. Field.

Any general exodus from Bocas del Toro comes rather as a surprise, since it was understood that the United Fruit Company had arranged with the canal commission for taking over between 4000 and 5000 laborers to work on the company's banana plantations both at Bocas del Toro and on the plantations in Costa Rica. In the same connection it is reported that the recent strike in the Changuinola district did not benefit the men any, but that they all went back to work on the old basis.

CITY OF PANAMA TAKES CONTRACT TO CLEAN STREETS

ANCON, C. Z.—A provisional arrangement has been entered into between the Panama government and the canal commission, whereby the latter has taken over the work of street cleaning, garbage collecting and street sprinkling in the city of Panama. At the outset, and up to 1903, this work was performed gratuitously by the canal commission.

The Panama government served notice that it desired to take charge of the service, and the transfer took place on Sept. 1, 1908. Since that time, the work has been handled by the Panama government, the canal commission contributing the sum of $10,000 annually toward its cost.

Under the new arrangement, the canal commission will have complete jurisdiction over the work, and it will continue from year to year unless 60 days' notice is given by either party, previous to the termination of the contract year, of desire for cancellation. The agreement also stipulates that Panamanian citizens be given preference in the matter of employment.

GOVERNOR URGES MORE SELF RULE FOR PORTO RICO

Col. Colton Says People Want Not Independence but Own Legislative Body

[By Latest Mail] NEW YORK—Col. George R. Colton, governor of Porto Rico, who resigned Nov. 6, says the Porto Ricans want and ought to have more of self-government.

Colonel Colton went to the Spanish-American war in 1898 and arrived in the Philippines as lieutenant-colonel of the first Nebraska volunteers. He was detailed to the customs service, which he organized according to American ideas. After several years in the Philippines he was sent to Santo Domingo to organize the receivership of customs of that country. After two years and a half of this he went back to Manila as insular collector of customs and remained 18 months, preparing the new tariff for the Philippines.

"There is considerable loose talk about independence," said Governor Colton, "but as a matter of fact the Porto Rican people don't want to be separated from the United States. They realize it would reduce all values in the island. Its nearest neighbor is Santo Domingo, only a few hours' sail with the same climate, the same natural conditions. In Santo Domingo good agricultural land can be bought for $1 to $3 an acre. In Porto Rico no agricultural land can be obtained for less than $100 to $150 an acre, and sugar land is worth $500. The land in Santo Domingo is richer, too.

"There is absolutely no similarity between conditions in the Philippines and those of Porto Rico. In Porto Rico the people ought to have a wholly elective legislature and a greater participation in their own government."
